Charleston School of Law: The Charleston School of Law offers students the unique opportunity to study the time-honored practice of law amid the beauty and grace of one of the South’s most historic cities, Charleston, South Carolina. Students at the Charleston School of Law study law as a profession and find a faculty focused on using the law as a calling in the public interest. Faculty members devote their full attention to excellent teaching and scholarship, both in and out of the classroom. www.CharlestonLaw.edu

Clemson University School of Computing/Visual Computing Division: The Master of Fine Arts (MFA) in Digital Production Arts (DPA) at Clemson University is a professional degree program aimed at producing technically savvy, artistically talented graduates who are sought after by the growing electronic arts industry, particularly by those companies engaged in visual effects within the entertainment and commercial video, film, and gaming industries. The DPA program offers a unique blend of instruction from art, computer science, computer engineering, graphic communications, performing arts, philosophy, and psychology, together with newly designed courses targeted at production techniques specific to the animation, visual effects, and electronic games industries. Because the MFA is a terminal degree in fine arts, students will also be prepared to accept university faculty positions. www.clemson.edu/dpa

Darla Moore School of Business, University of South Carolina: The Master of International Business (MIB) Program at USC is looking for talented students to join its Fall 2016 and Spring 2017 Cohort. By joining one of the top MIB Programs in the nations, students can: • Obtain a graduate business degree directly after earning your undergraduate degree • Join the top-ranked public university in international business category for 25 consecutive years in the survey of “America’s Best Graduate Schools” . . . and the number one for “international experience” among all graduate business schools globally . . . • Pursue a curriculum that trains students to launch careers in consultancy, international management, strategy and negotiations • Join a global alumni network engaged in both the public and private sector as the next generation of executive leaders www.moore.sc.edu

Duke University Nicholas School of the Environment: Duke’s Nicholas School is a School of the Environment - not Environmental Sciences, or Environmental Studies, but the Environment. We strive for a new paradigm, one that views and attempts to understand the earth and the environment including humans as an integrated whole. And one that advances a more sustainable future by strategically focusing its resources on addressing the major environmental issues of our times and by training a new and environmentally-informed generation of global leaders. To achieve this vision, the Nicholas School has assembled a unique and talented faculty of world-class researchers and educators spanning all of the relevant physical, life, and social sciences, steeped and actively engaged in their respective disciplines, but also committed to the multi- and interdisciplinary lines of inquiry and collaborations that are at the core of many environmental issues. nicholas.duke.edu

Elon School of Law: offers a full-time J.D. program with several enhancements made possible by the institution's 4-1-4 calendar, by the proximity of the law school to federal and state legal and judicial offices and through the program’s close relationships with the North Carolina Business Court, the Center for Creative Leadership and similar organizations. Recognized as one of the nation's most innovative law schools, Elon's legal program focuses its curriculum and other experiences on pedagogies that promote active and engaged learning. Instruction is complemented with frequent interactions with local professionals through Elon’s signature Preceptor Program. The three-year J.D. program prepares students to successfully complete the bar examination and to continue into leadership positions in their profession and their communities. Located in Greensboro, NC. www.elon.edu/law

Georgia School of Professional Psychology at Argosy University: Atlanta, GA.- The Georgia School of Professional Psychology offers both master's and doctoral (PsyD) degrees in Clinical Psychology. Our PsyD program follows the “practitioner-scholar” model of training and emphasizes the knowledge and skills necessary for individuals to practice Clinical Psychology. The PsyD program has been APA-accredited since 1994, with our next accreditation review in 2019. Grounded in the theoretical constructs and empirical findings of psychology, our PsyD program is designed to provide students with well-rounded generalist training in Clinical Psychology. Our students also can pursue concentrated study in Child and Family Psychology, Neuropsychology, and Health Psychology. GSPPAtlanta.com

Graduate School of the University of Charleston, South Carolina at the College of Charleston: The Graduate School of the College of Charleston capitalizes on the clear strengths of our faculty and facilities while focusing on the professional needs of the Charleston community. Our 19 master's degree programs and 7 graduate-level certificate programs prepare students to fill important roles in communities as teachers, scholars, environmentalists, historic preservationists, public administrators, and business leaders. www.gradschool.cofc.edu

Mercer University- Walter F. George School of Law: Founded in 1873. One of the first law schools in the U.S. Nationally accredited by the American Bar Association; First ABA-accredited law school in the State of Georgia. Nationally Recognized Programs: Legal Writing, Ethics and Professionalism, Moot Court and Mock Trial Advocacy, Experiential Education, Public Service. www.law.mercer.edu
MUSC College of Nursing: The College of Nursing, one of six colleges of the Medical University of South Carolina, is responsible for the education, research, and practice of nurses in an interprofessional health sciences environment. The philosophy of the College of Nursing embodies the concepts of nursing, health, person, and environment, within education, research, and practice. The faculty believes that the discipline of nursing is both an art and a science. www.musc.edu/nursing

Roger Williams University: Located on a picturesque peninsula in Rhode Island only 20 miles from Providence and 60 miles from Boston, Roger Williams University offers more than a dozen master's and certificate programs in a variety of disciplines including Architecture, Art & Architectural History, and Historic Preservation; Clinical and Forensic Psychology; Criminal Justice and Cybersecurity; Leadership; Literacy Education; and Public Administration. Experiential education is at the core of RWU and students benefit from a wealth of internship and research opportunities. grad.rwu.edu

The Iron Yard Academy: Our educational resources provide a solution at the juncture of supply, demand, business and a broken education system. We are committed to training the highest-quality technology professionals in the world, both in skill and in character. Our mission is to connect with people pursuing the craft and lifelong adventure of technology and help equip them with the skills they need to both get started and progress throughout their careers. Our hope is that those we journey with are energized to make a difference through their work. We believe that passionate, talented people who love what they do will create and sustain great families, jobs, companies and solutions to the world’s problems. It’s been said that the sum of parts can be greater than the whole. We couldn’t agree more. The Iron Yard is made up of a broad, deep and growing network of instructors, developers, designers, marketers, entrepreneurs, partners, board members and hiring partners, all of whom are passionate about waking up each day and accomplishing our mission. http://theironyard.com/academy/

Troy University: If you are ready to take the challenge, TROY’s Graduate School is ready to help you develop the professional skills and academic competencies needed to achieve your goals. www.troy.edu

University of North Carolina at Greensboro, Bryan School of Business and Economics: Recruiting students for masters degree programs. bae.uncg.edu

University of South Carolina, Arnold School of Public Health: The Arnold School of Public Health at the University of South Carolina offers different degree and certificate options through undergraduate- and graduate-level coursework that spans public health; exercise science; biostatistics; epidemiology; communication sciences and disorders; health services policy and management; health promotion, education, and behavior; environmental health sciences; physical activity and public health; advanced athletic training; and physical therapy. www.sc.edu/publichealth

University of South Carolina School of Hotel, Restaurant and Tourism Mgt: Graduate school in hospitality and tourism mgmt http://www.sc.edu/

University of South Carolina School of Law. As part of South Carolina’s flagship research university, the School of Law is able to offer extensive interdisciplinary opportunities, including eleven dual-degree programs; hands-on experiential learning through our clinical programs and externships; transnational exposure through our foreign practice program, summer study in London, and ongoing work with the America Bar Association’s Rule of Law initiative; an active trial and appellate advocacy program designed to sharpen courtroom skills; and a unique first-year professionalism program that brings lawyers and judges into the classroom as teachers and mentors. http://www.law.sc.edu

University of South Carolina- College of Social Work- Our mission is to promote social well-being and social justice with vulnerable populations through dynamic teaching, research, and service conducted in collaboration with diverse people of South Carolina, the nation, and the international community. www.cosw.sc.edu

Wingate University School of Pharmacy: Students in the Wingate University School of Pharmacy get more experience than those at other pharmacy schools. In addition to learning in class, you learn by doing: in hospitals, community pharmacies, medical clinics and more. The unique combination of outstanding instruction and immediate application has a name: the Wingate Pharmacy Formula. • Real-world experience starting in your first year • 2,150 hours of practice experience in four years • Student-focused program • Small-group learning • Family-like atmosphere • No summer classes • Superior results on the national licensing exam Our formula works. The percentage of Wingate School of Pharmacy grads who pass the national licensing exam is higher than the average pass rates in North Carolina and the U.S. www.pharmacy.wingate.edu