Looking for a Full-Time Job? Check out page 2 for who’s hiring now in

Networking is Still the #1 Way to Find a Job...Even During a Pandemic - with Erin Halford
Networking can work for you, but you’ve got to know these essential tips for success - especially during these uncertain times. Access this recorded session in Handshake to learn virtual etiquette pointers and sample scripts to make your conversations more meaningful and productive.

LinkedIn Guide To Networking
Do you have questions about networking as a recent grad or undergrad? LinkedIn has tips on how to easily network within your existing community. Log onto LinkedIn and head to this page to find answers to the burning networking questions you have.

The Importance Of Network Diversity
Diversity & Inclusion, Forbes
As the topic of diversity and inclusion has gained ever greater importance recently, Forbes highlights why it is important to focus on equity and diversity within professional networks. Read the full article by Forbes.

At-home Networking Strategies
Effective ways to network from home
With the majority of students and recent graduates in quarantine, networking seems nearly impossible. Don’t fret! There are numerous ways to network effectively from the comfort of your own home. Inside Higher Ed has some excellent advice to keep you moving forward and making connections!

HireSouthCarolina Virtual Career Fair - for Rising Seniors!
June 24, 2020, 10am-4pm
Seniors and recent grads connect online with ease through one to one succession meetings. Industries include accounting, consulting, education, engineering, finance, healthcare, government, non-profit, investment banking, marketing, media, sales and technology. Register!
CRAFTING A SOLID ELEVATOR PITCH

Not sure what to say? Worried you’ll sound rehearsed or too "sales-y"? Check out these tips and examples in this video from Candid Careers.

1. Ask yourself "so what?" Make sure what you are sharing will have meaning to the person on the receiving end.
2. Write your pitch the same way you speak to ensure an easier delivery. Genuine and conversational is best!
3. Avoid jokes and cliches in your opening statement.
4. If speaking to a specific employer, cater your pitch to a known issue and offer your assistance.
5. Practice, practice. You should know your pitch like you know your favorite song!

WORKSHOP SERIES
Summer Series for Rising Professionals!
Check out JWI’s Summer Workshop Series for Rising Professionals. There are 5 virtual sessions with professional women speakers. The series is FREE and open to all, but pre-registering is required.

Tue. June 23rd: Anti-Racism in the Workplace
Tue. June 30th: Road to Financial Independence
Tue. July 7th: Exploring your Future Career
Tue. July 14th: Gender Equity on Campus & in the Workplace.

WHO’S HIRING RIGHT NOW!

Job 3806478
Bank of America Merrill Lynch
Financial Advisor Development

Job 3808527
Edward Rose & Sons
Leasing Consultant Brook Pines Apartments (Columbia, SC)

Job 3809439
University of Nebraska at Omaha
Admissions Associate

Job 380992
Reynolds and Reynolds Entry Level Business Development Trainee

Job 3791586
Brilliant Earth Customer Experience Assistant, Sales – Philadelphia

Job 3791145
Oak Ridge Associated Universities (ORAU) Administrative and Communications Support

We’re here to help! Schedule a Zoom meeting or phone appointment via Appointment Manager, or email us for a resume critique.

Contact the Career Center
P: 843-953-5692
E: careercenter@cofc.edu
Hours: M-F 8:30-5:00 pm
Extended hours on Wednesdays from 5-7 pm